

6th International Conference On Public Mental Health And Neurosciences (ICPMN – 2019)

December 26-27, 2019
Bali Island, Indonesia.

THEME:
Mind-Body-Consciousness Linkage, Yogic & Neuro-Bioinformatics Research – Ancient to Modern.

Big data is a promising research area, still in its formative years with the initiation of new high information and cost reducing data capturing tools. With the increasing use of advanced technology and the exploding amount of data in bioinformatics, it is imperative to introduce effective and efficient methods to handle big data using the distributed and parallel computing technologies. Big data research finds huge application in Neuroscience and Brain research. Brain research is an extremely complex field of study which constitutes of Brain Anatomy, Neuroscience, Cognitive Science, Psychology and interrelated disciplines. The conference seeks collaboration within brain research, cross-disciplinary researcher mobility, and emerging trends and themes in brain research. Experts from around the world are invited to communicate the developments in neuroscience research. Yogic Science is an emerging alternative system under AYUSH system of medicine (i.e., Indigenous Health systems in Ayurveda, Yoga, Unani, Siddha & Homeopathy). Yoga is a mind and body practice with historical origins in ancient Indian philosophy but only recently has there been a move to substantiate these claims through scientific research. In a world that demands substantive applied research evidence to support different approaches to health care and explorations in yoga psychology, yoga is gaining attention.

Call for research/review/case studies abstracts from psychology, computer science, bioinformatics, yogic science, philosophy and neuroscience.

Topics of the session may include, but not limited to, the following:

- Big data analysis in Bioinformatics
- Bioconductor and Bioinformatics applied for understanding Neurodegenerative diseases
- Whole Genome Sequence Analysis and Next Generation Sequence Analysis
- Psychology & Public Mental Health
- Neuroscience & Computational Neuroscience
- Neuro-Bio-Informatics in Ayurveda: Ayur-informatics
- Role of Ayurveda and Herbal Medicine in neurobiology
- Role of Yoga in Neurobiology, Physical And Mental Well Being
- Neuro-Bio-Informatics in Yoga: Yogic-Informatics
- Cultural and Applied Psychology
- Spirituality and Yoga Therapy
- Creative articles[†]

Guidelines for abstract submission

Title page of the abstract should include, title of the paper, author's name, designation, institution affiliation, mailing address, contact numbers and email id. Abstract should be sent to info@sarvasumana.in with a copy to sarvasumana@gmail.com. Guidelines for preparation of full paper will be communicated along with the acceptance of the abstracts. Selected papers will be published in the International Journal of Public Mental Health & Neuroscience (IJPMN) ISSN: 2394-4668, ISI impact factor: 1.261. [†]Selected papers will be published in Sarvasumana's online magazine, Manahsakshi.

Call for Special Session Proposals

The organizers call for special session proposals. The session organizer should send the special session proposal having: title of the session, designation, institution affiliation, mailing address, contact numbers, email id along with the abstracts for the session. Proposals should be sent to info@sarvasumana.in with a copy to sarvasumana@gmail.com. The proposals should be sent on or before August 31, 2019. Accepted special session's organizers' name will appear in the scientific advisory committee of the conference.
